Mark J. Porter, CFP®, CFA® partners with MIT Federal Credit Union

75 year old financial institution introduces newest service provider

IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Cambridge, MA — August 1, 2017 — MIT Federal Credit Union (MIT FCU) announced that Mark J. Porter, a Certified Financial Planner™ and LPL Financial Registered Representative, will provide financial planning and investment services to its members as well as employees within the Kendall Square business community, as a part of the MIT FCU Financial & Retirement Services division.

"At MIT FCU, we are always seeking opportunities to deliver on our purpose of 'fulfilling dreams and enriching the lives of others'," said Brian Ducharme, President/CEO, MIT Federal Credit Union. "Through this new partnership with Mark, our members, no matter what their age, will have access to an experienced and established financial professional to assist them with their short- and long-term financial planning and investment strategies. This is a great addition to our member service offering and we are excited to have Mark."

A Massachusetts Institute of Technology graduate (2005, BS Finance, Sloan School) Porter is available for scheduled appointments in MIT FCU offices located at 700 Technology Square, Cambridge (NE48), on-campus Student Center (W20) and Lincoln Laboratory, Lexington locations. Porter will also be conducting financial planning-based presentations in and around the Kendall Square area. While available to meet in Cambridge and Lexington, Porter also continues to work with non-credit union clients and maintain his hometown office in Canton, MA.

"The opportunity to partner with this respected credit union through MIT FCU Financial & Retirement Services is something I am very excited about for MIT FCU members and others who work in the area," stated Porter. "My goal is to be a go-to resource for any financial services, including financial planning, investment strategies, retirement income discussions, and tax strategies."

About MIT Federal Credit Union (www.mitfcu.org)—MIT Federal Credit Union (mitfcu.org) has been serving the MIT community for over 75 years. Founded as a non-profit financial institution in 1940, the credit union now serves the Massachusetts Institute of Technology community (undergrad and grad students, employees, alumni, faculty, etc), as well as employees of Novartis (Cambridge), Lincoln Laboratory, Draper, Philips, Forsyth, Whitehead Institute, The Broad Institute and others. The credit union offers traditional savings and checking accounts as well as mortgages, autos, personal and student loans. With locations and ATMs in Cambridge and Lexington, MIT Federal Credit Union is a member-owned, cooperative financial institution whose primary mission is to provide quality financial services that meet the needs of its members while ensuring the financial well-being of the organization.

About LPL Financial Services—LPL Financial is one of the leading financial services companies and the largest independent broker/dealer in the nation, as reported in Financial Planning Magazine, 1996-2017, based on total revenue. For more than four decades, the firm has served as an enabling partner, supporting financial advisors in their goals of protecting and growing their clients' wealth. A chief objective of LPL Financial is to reduce the complexity of running a financial services practice so advisors can focus on what they do best – help their clients address their financial goals and pursue their dreams.
