Debit Card Controls FAQs

What types of Alerts and Declines can be enabled?

Alerts and Declines can be set for the following categories:

Merchants:	Department Stores, Entertainment, Gas Stations, Groceries, Household, Personal Care, Restaurants, Travel
Transactions:	In-store, Online, Mail/phone order and ATM
Locations:	Decline and/or set up alerts for international (foreign country) transactions
Spend Limits:	Receive notification for or decline a transaction that is above a specific amount

What ways can I receive my alerts?

Choose your communication preferences:

- Push Notifications: Enable using the MIT FCU Mobile App by going to Settings>Push Notifications. Or, by using Online Banking by going to Alerts and Notifications. SMS (Text Alerts): Can only be enabled within Online Banking by going to Settings>My Settings>Alerts & Notifications>Change or Add Number.
- Email: Can be enabled using the MIT FCU Mobile App in More (iOS) or Menu (Android) and going to Settings>My Settings>Communication Email. Or, by using Online Banking and going to My Settings>Communication Email.

How do I turn my debit card ON or OFF?

From the MIT FCU Mobile App main screen, tap on the toggle switch to turn your card off or on. Changes are effective immediately and you can control your debit card 24/7. Even if you turn your debit card off, any recurring transactions will not be blocked.
